PUT HIM ON!

If a fellow clad in khaki, olive drab, or sailor blue, Walks in and asks to see the Boss—
And the Boss, of course, is you;
If a fellow clad in khaki, olive drab, or sailor blue Walks in and asks you for a job—
What are you going to do?—Put him on!

He's the fellow, please remember,
When the Huns knocked at our door,
To whom you prayed with fervor:
"Keep the Germans from our shore!"
He's the fellow—oh, remember!
Who, knee-deep in mud and gore,
Gave your prayers a happy answer,
Made your hearthstone safe once more;—Put him on!

When he marched away you cheered him;
Have you cheered him coming back?
Have you given him welcome
Since he laid down gun and pack?
Have you thrown his deeds in discord?—
Put his record on the rack?
It is you who'll be the slacker
To the boy who didn't slack?—Put him on!

If a fellow clad in khaki, olive drab, or sailor blue, Walks in and asks you for a job—
What are you going to do?
Yes, of course, it seems a problem,
May mean sacrifice for you;
But—remember Chateau-Thierry
He's been sacrificing, too!—Put him on!

The Potato Situation---

"Conditions as they exist," in the potato market, have been far from pleasing to the housekeeper. The old stock is a little too old, and the new is a bit too new. In the one case it has been sprouted, withered, and decayed tubers; and in the other, wormy, under-developed spuds that it is a shame to "pick on." It's a situation aptly described in the familiar farm phrase of "between hay and grass." However, things are looking up in this department at Blaine's at this writing. We've some good old potatoes, and some good new ones too. We hope that they will not be gone before you see this. 3 1/2c a lb. for the old; 5c for the new.

Good Bacon---

Many an argumentative lance is broken on the subject of good bacon. Some hold that it should be "firm," as they express it. We'll allow that firmness is desirable from the standpoint of satisfactory frying; but in our experience it is largely a matter of age. Good bacon may be soft today, and firm next week--- after it has dried out a bit. It appears that the texture, therefore, is not a proof of the original quality. Another point at issue is the question of color. Bacon looks better, surely, when it's pink and white. If it is salt cure, the cheaper kind, it will stay white in the cooking. But the best sort, sugar cured, turns dark brown under the influence of heat. That is, the sugar turns to caramel. Hence, one mustn't expect good bacon to stay white when cooked. It's impossible. Be satisfied if it tastes "like more," after the manner of our Cudahy bacon. Only 60c a pound, too.

BOY SCOUTS

SCHOOLS AS SCOUT QUARTERS

In connection with the movement to make the school building the community center with a wide variety of public-welfare activities, Dudley Grant Hays, director of community centers in the public schools of Chicago, declares that "the boy scouts and camp-fire girls should have their places for meeting at the schools."

This is a direct point of contact with boys that the school authorities should not overlook. More concrete evidence is coming to the boy that if the superintendent or the principal or his teachers have a real interest in his welfare outside of school hours, it would not fail to be reflected in better school work.

It is fairly certain from experience with boy scouts who have been allowed the use of public halls and church rooms and similar places for their meeting rooms and in which to conduct their scout tests and go through the various features of their program as far as it is possible indoors that school buildings will not suffer by such use. On the contrary scouts will be found valuable aids in keeping the premises in good order and in good repair as a result of their partial occupancy.

CHINESE SCOUTS STOP FLOOD.

In Peking, China, with the foundation of the scout troops at Tsing Hua college, in 1915, began a growth of scouting that has led to its recognition in North China.

In the summer of 1918 the boy scouts directed the dike building which saved countless lives in the flooded districts of the province of Chihli.

In addition to this a great variety of good turns stands out in the Chinese scout history. Scouts have sold American Red Cross stamps, made a census of the people of the Tsing Hua community, distributed leaflets against the evil custom of early marriage, and raised funds for the Tientsin flood relief.

During the war scouts did much to make the Chinese troops happy. Checker-boards and joke books were sent to the soldiers in Siberia.

SIAMESE SCOUTS GAIN 6,904.

A total of 9,453 scouts, an increase of 6,904 over the previous year, is reported by the boy scout organization in the Kingdom of Siam.

The scout movement is honored by having for its president His Majesty King Rama VI. Work with boys started here with an organization known as "Wild Tigers," but in 1911 the king authorized the formation of boy scout corps and established a central committee to push the work.

On several occasions Siamese scouts have been reviewed by the king. At his coronation over 2,000 took part in the ceremony. Examinations in the various scout tests have been conducted with surprising success. Of those who took the tests, 66 per cent second-class scouts passed, while of 1,625 examined, 360 first-class scouts qualified.

SCOUTS TO BUILD TRENCHES.

New York is to have a chance to see an exact reproduction of a part of the fighting front in France if the boy scouts carry out the suggestion made by Maj. Lorrillard Spencer of the returned Three Hundred and Sixty-ninth infantry.

Major Spencer, who is scout commissioner of the Manhattan council, said that part of the scouts' camp grounds reminded him exactly of the sector in which his regiment fought in France and he planned to duplicate the trenches and dugouts exactly as soon as the weather permitted.

He asked for 150 scouts to receive instructions in trench and dugout building and to carry out this replica of the first lines over there.

SCOUTS AS HEALTH AGENTS.

To make the boy scouts a part of the St. Paul health inspection force is planned by Dr. B. F. Simon, chief city health officer.

Doctor Simon thinks the boys will be glad to be enrolled in the service and have the duty of reporting to the department any violations of city health regulations.

When a boy scout finds that one of his neighbors is maintaining a nuisance that is menacing the health of the neighborhood, he will be expected to report this to the health office. Then an investigation will be made by a regular inspector.

Tells Of Ruin Wrought By Huns

United States Mining Expert Investigates Coal and Iron Mines in France.

ARE SET BACK MANY YEARS

Frank H. Probert Gives First-Hand Story of Unbelievable Atrocities of Huns in Destroying Industrial Life of France and Belgium.

Washington.—Frank H. Probert, consulting engineer of the bureau of mines, department of the interior, and dean of the College of Mining, University of California, member of a special commission to investigate the damage done by the Germans during the war to the coal and iron mines and the steel works of France and Belgium, after a personal investigation, has just returned to Washington with a first-hand story of the almost unbelievable atrocities of the Huns in the destruction and wreckage of the industrial life of France and Belgium. So systematic and diabolical has been this destruction in one great coal-mining region, Mr. Probert says, that it will take at least five years to rehabilitate this district and it will be twelve to fifteen years before it gets back to normal, pre-war output. He predicts that with the indomitable spirit of France, in spite of the fearful destruction to her steel works, with the return of Alsace and Lorraine to the mother land, France will eventually become the dominant factor in the future steel industry of Europe.

Exploited by Invaders.
In a preliminary report to Van H. Manning, director of the bureau of mines, Mr. Probert says in part: "Early in the war the German hordes swept southward through the iron basins of French Alsace and Lorraine, and for nearly four years this renowned mining area was held and exploited by the invaders. Many of the employees were made captives and compelled to work in the mines under German direction. The international boundary between France and Germany was drawn in 1871, to give the victor of the Franco-Prussian war control of the iron fields, but since that time scientific development, guided by a better understanding of the local geology, exposed for France a greater ore reserve at lower horizons than that of the Lorraine annexes."

"The actual physical damage to the iron mines is comparatively small when compared to the destruction of

Hero Who Faced Barrage Tries to Escape D. S. C.

Philadelphia.—Uncle Sam finally forced a Distinguished Service cross upon First Lieut. Samuel T. Smith. He was compelled to receive it with all possible ceremony on Franklin field, at the University of Pennsylvania. This action was taken by Lieut. Col. Joseph M. Heller because Smith had escaped from him twice in the Philadelphia hospital when he tried to make the presentation in the ward.

Lieutenant Smith is twenty-six. He comes from Arkansas. He received a bullet in his chest at Fleville, France, last October 4 while serving with the Sixth field artillery.

His citation reads: "When his entire platoon had been cut off by an enemy barrage and all of his cannoners but two had been killed, Lieutenant Smith made repeated trips into the shelled area and removed his wounded comrades to places of safety. He refused to accept surgical treatment for four wounds he had received until all of his wounded men had received treatment."

the coal fields of northern France, which is as reprehensible as it is complete. Only in a few cases, where pillars have been robbed in the mines, is there any collapse of underground workings, but the equipment, both surface and underground, has been misused, and where ore has been mined, the lack of development will defer realization on capital until the exploratory work is sufficiently advanced to admit of daily output approximating pre-war conditions. The mines are not seriously crippled, but what of the steel plants in which the iron ores are smelted? In my opinion no such atrocity was ever perpetrated against the industrial life of any country. Magnificent plants, comparing favorably with anything we have in the United States, are now but a tangled, twisted mass of structural steel and broken stone. The willful demolition was scientifically planned and systematically carried out. This after the removal of all such mechanical and electrical power units as could be used by Germany. The maliciousness and efficiency with which this crime against French industry

Use Airplanes To Fight Bandits

Machine-Gun Method of Warfare Being Tried in Santo Domingo.

LATEST STUNT OF MARINES

Distinct Surprise to Macoris Gang of 400 Outlaws Hiding in Inaccessible Parts of Island—Frequent Bush Fighting.

New York.—Hunting bandits with machine guns in airplanes is the latest stunt of the United States marine corps. It is said to be a distinct surprise to the Macoris gang of 400 outlaws hiding in inaccessible parts of the San Pedro Macoris district of Santo Domingo.

News of the adoption of this up-to-the-minute method of discouraging revolution and pillage in the turbulent republic came in private advices from Porto Rico, where it is said, the outlaws obtained their arms and ammunition. At marine headquarters here there is no knowledge of how effective well-directed gunfire from the soaring planes has been, but a report from Colonel Breckenridge, in command of one of the companies on the island, indicates that the latest crop of jungle buccaners will soon be harvested. He wrote to thank the originator of the idea, which, he said, was proving invaluable, and added: "Send down some more airplanes."

There are now 13 flying machines with the marine corps in Santo Domingo and Hayti. These forces consist of the First brigade, of 1,500 men, under General Catlin, at Port au Prince, and the Second brigade, of 2,000 men, under General Fuller, at San Domingo City. Attached to these forces is the Fourth aviation squadron, under Captain Minnis, of 300 men, divided into two divisions.

Frequent Bush Fighting.

The one in Hayti has seven hydroplanes and the other in Santo Domingo has six machines. In both countries there is a very bad situation, with constant outbreaks of revolution and outlawry. No regular battle has taken place since the arrival of the marines, but there has been frequent bush fighting, with the marines the first and the last to fight.

An idea of what the marines are facing and how thoroughly they are preparing to do their job is given in an article in the Times of San Juan, Porto Rico, of recent date, under the headline, "Airplanes to Smash New Band of Bandits." It says:

"According to reliable reports the latest band of bandits in Santo Domingo numbers about 400 young and active men, and they are well armed and have plenty of ammunition. The haunt of the gang is in the San Pedro Macoris district, and while they adopt the old profession of being revolutionists they are proving to be as ready for murder and pillage as their prototypes who are gone. There has been nothing like a pitched battle with the outlaws as yet, but marine officers having commands in the district are expecting serious trouble at any time. It has been authentically stated that a squadron of five or six airplanes with a force of 35 trained pilots and mechanics has recently been landed on the island and is being mobilized at the Consuelo sugar estate in the San Pedro Macoris district, where a wide cleared area and level plains make the ground ideal for the building of air-dromes and the maneuvering of the machines."

Expected to Check Lawlessness.
"Although no official information has been given out, it is currently reported that the airplanes, when put in proper shape, will be armed with machine guns and will play a conspicuous part in the hunting out of the bandits lurking in the jungles and in properly cleaning them up. With the leathernecks afoot and the air full of 'humming birds' there does not seem to be much hope for the would-be bad men, and the fertile plains of San Domingo may soon be made safe for honest men."

News from other sources is to the effect that several flights have been made over the territory to which the gang has been driven for concealment, with the result that concealment was immediately made doubly sure in the tall grass and timber, to escape from the rain of bullets from the skies. What execution was done is not known here.

KAISER IS NOW ERNEST KAYES

Hammond Man Unable to Endure the Jibes of Friends Changes His Name.

Hammond, Ind.—Having a very unpatriotic name and unable to endure the jests of friends, Ernest Kaiser filed a petition in the Hammond superior court before the armistice was signed to have his name changed to Kayes. Recently the court granted the request and Ernest Kaiser will now sign his name Ernest Kayes.

French Tribute to First Americans to Fall

Eulogy Spoken During Ceremony of Burial by a French Officer

The following eulogy was spoken during the ceremony of burial by a French officer as the French tribute to the first American soldiers who fell in battle:

"In the name of the division, in the name of the French army, and in the name of France I bid farewell to Private Enright, Private Gresham and Private Hay of the American army. Of their own free will they left a prosperous and happy country to come over here. They knew war was continuing in Europe; they knew that the forces fighting for honor, love of justice and civilization were still checked by the long-prepared forces serving the powers of brutal domination, oppression and barbarity. They knew that efforts were still necessary. They wished to give us their generous hearts, and they have not forgotten old historical memories, while others forgot more recent ones. They ignored nothing of the circumstances and nothing has been concealed from them—neither the length and hardships of war nor the violence of battle, nor the dreadfulness of new weapons, nor the perfidy of the foe. Nothing stopped them. They accepted the hard and strenuous life; they crossed the ocean at great peril; they took their places on the front by our side, and they have fallen facing the foe in a hard and desperate hand-to-hand fight. Honor to them. Their families, friends and fellow citizens will be proud when they learn of their deaths. Men! These graves, the first to be dug in our national soil, and but a short distance from the enemy, are as a mark of the mighty land we and our allies firmly cling to in the common task, confirming the will of the people and the army of the United States to fight with us to the finish, ready to sacrifice as long as is necessary until the final victory for the most noble of causes, that of the liberty of nations, the weak as well as the mighty. Thus the deaths of these humble soldiers appear to us with extraordinary grandeur. We will therefore ask that the mortal remains of these young men be left here, left with us forever. We inscribe on the tombs, 'Here lie the first soldiers of the republic of the United States to fall on the soil of France for liberty and justice.' The passer by will stop and uncover his head. Travelers and men of heart will go out of their way to come here to pay their respective tributes. Private Enright, Private Gresham, Private Hay! In the name of France I thank you. God receive your souls. Farewell."

Luxury Tax Law

Affects Refreshments as Well as Wearing Apparel

The so-called luxury taxes provided in the new internal revenue law affects ice cream, sodas, sundaes, and all soft drinks, all bottled beverages made of cereals or substitutes and containing less than one-half of 1 per cent of alcohol, unfermented grape juice, root beer, sarsaparilla, pop, artificial mineral waters.

While not classed particularly as luxuries, carpets, rugs, picture frames, trunks, portable lighting fixtures, umbrellas, fans, women's and misses hats, bennets and hoods and men's and boys' hats, shoes, neckties, shirts and pajamas also are taxed.

The tax on ice cream and soft drinks is 1 cent for each 10 cents or fraction thereof of the amount paid by the consumer. Of bottled beverages the tax is 15 per cent, while on grape juice, ginger ale, root beer, sarsaparilla, pop and mineral waters the tax is 10 per cent.

The tax on carpets, rugs, etc., is 10 per cent of the price paid in excess of a certain amount fixed, which, in the case of women's hats is $15, and in the case of men's and boys' hats, neckwear, shirts, etc., is $5.

Before June 30 owners of pleasure boats will be taxed $1.25, and on July 1 a tax of $1 to $10, based on the length and power of such craft, will be due.

Millions of Boys and Girls Have Physical Defects Which Impede Their Development

Fifty per cent of 25,000,000 boys and girls of school age in this country have physical defects and ailments which impede their normal development, according to the annual report of the executive committee of the national physical education service. The estimate was made following numerous investigations conducted by members of the committee.

A lack of proper physical education, such as play, athletics, work and gymnastics was attributed by the committee as the cause for the physical disability, and a broad program of state and federal legislation for the required education was urged as a means of bringing children to the proper standard.

Members of the executive committee include Major-General W. C. Gorgas, Dr. Charles Mayo, John Mitchell, Dr. Thomas A. Storey, William Kent, Dr. Richard C. Cabot, Dr. J. H. McCurdy, Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker and Mrs. Mary Roberts Rinehart.

Polar Star and Some of the Wonders of This Great Beacon of the Far North

Most people, if they know nothing else of astronomy, at any rate know the pole star, the one star which seems to keep its place in the heavens without movement of any kind. There are a great many, however, says the Rehoboth Sunday Herald, who do not know what a wonderful thing it is, in the first place, it can be seen when looked at through a good telescope to be two stars and not one. There is one fairly bright one, of what is known as the second magnitude, and another of the ninth magnitude close to it.

But that is not all. The brighter of the two is really three stars revolving round one another, or, rather, round their common center of gravity, like three children playing "ring a ring of roses."

This secret is revealed to us by what is perhaps the most astonishing of all scientific instruments, the spectroscope. It not only tells us what the stars are made of, but whether they are moving toward us or away from us.

When you stand facing the star you are always facing north. The reason that it does not appear to move as the others do is that it is nearly in line with the axis of the earth. Its distance from us is enormous. This can be judged from the fact that although the earth in its journey around the sun is today about 190,000,000 miles from where it was six months ago, that makes no appreciable difference to its distance from the pole star. It must therefore be many times 190,000,000 miles away.

BUDDING TIME TOO BRIEF

O little buds, break not so fast! The spring's but new, The skies will yet be brighter blue, And sunny, too, I would you might thus sweetly last Till this glad season's overpast. Nor hasten through.

It is so exquisite to feel The light, warm sun; To merely know the winter done, And life begun; And to my heart no blooms appear For tenderness so deep and real, As anyone.

Of these first April buds, that hold The hint of spring's Rare perfectness that May-time brings, So take not wings! Oh, linger, linger, nor unfold Too swiftly through the mellow moud. Sweet growing things!

And errant birds, and honey bees, Seek not to wile; And, sun, let not your warmest smile Quite yet beguile The young peach-boughs and apple trees To trust their beauty to the breeze; Wait yet awhile! —Evalene Stein.

THE LINDENS
The lindens step so gently up the hill, Like leisured, stately dames of long ago, Waiving their fan-leaved branches to and fro. They gossip of the rushes and the rill, Whether the breeze has paid the rose's bill For perfumes which he lavished on a bee, And if the linnets in the loudest tree Thrills love songs to the pink or daffodil.
And when the silver moon slips slowly by To keep her tryst with some awaiting cloud Their green procession heaves an envious sigh And vows she isn't maidenly or proud. And when it grows too dark to spy or peep, The lindens softly yawn and go to sleep.
—Charlotte Becker.

CALOMEL TODAY, SICK TOMORROW

Dose of nasty calomel makes you sick and you lose a day's work.

Calomel salivates! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with your bile it crashes into it, causing cramping and nausea. If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic for a few cents, which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tonic you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It's harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they like it.—Adv.

Catch Trout in Your Hands
"Then, at Will's suggestion, they started after more provisions," writes Samuel Scoville, Jr., in his serial "Boy Scouts in the Wilderness," of which the second installment appears in the May number of Boys' Life. "Joe taught Will one of the simplest ways of catching fish. They walked up the main brook toward its source, until they met a little stream flowing into it from a nearby spring. This they followed, the trout darting ahead of them. At a narrow part of this stream the boys waded in a pool with piles of stone and small rocks.

"This pool they filled up with flat stones until the water in it was only a few inches deep, building up the sides, however, until they were fully a foot above the water. Then, making a detour away from the brook, they came out some fifty yards above this fish-trap. Stepping into the brook both boys waded with a stick in each hand, splashing the water and driving the fish down-stream. By the time they reached the shallow, walled-in pool it was packed to overflowing with plunging, darting trout from four to six inches long. So thickly were the fish jammed into the shallow water that all the boys had to do was to wade in and catch as many as they needed with their hands, and even had a hundred or so small trout."

Hurrah! How's This
Cincinnati authority says corns dry up and lift out with fingers.
Ouch ! ! ! ! ! This kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town if people troubled with corns will follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati authority, who claims that a few drops of a drug called freezone when applied to a tender, aching corn or hardened callus stops soreness at once, and softens the corn or callus dries up and lifts right off without pain.

He says freezone dries immediately and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding skin. A small bottle of freezone will cost very little at any drug store, but will positively remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Millions of American women will welcome this announcement since the inauguration of the high heels. If your druggist doesn't have freezone tell him to order a small bottle for you.—Adv.

Animals Display Great Intelligence When Ill or Hurt—Treat Themselves

Few people realize, notes a writer in the Christian Herald, how many animals are constantly getting hurt and sick. The wild animals seldom get sick from what they eat, but the domestic animals frequently do. Wild animals get injured from fighting with other animals of their kind or in fights with animal enemies. In all cases, animals have a way of doctoring themselves that is remarkable.

Animals suffering from fever eat nothing, keep quiet, seek darkness and airy places, drink much water and sometimes plunge into the water from time to time. When a dog has lost its appetite it eats that species of grass known as "dog's grass." Cats also eat grass, catnip, etc., when sick. Sheep and cows in the same circumstances seek out certain wild plants. If an ant's foot is cut, other ants will cover the wounded part with a transparent fluid from their mouths. If a chimpanzee is wounded it stops the flow of blood by placing its hand on the wound or dressing it with leaves and grass.

A terrier had an injured eye. It remained lying under a counter, avoiding heat and light, although it had been its habit to keep close to the fire. It adopted the general treatment—rest and abstinence from food. The local treatment consisted in licking the upper surface of its paw, which it then applied to the wounded eye, again licking the paw when it became dry. Cats, when hurt, also treat themselves by this simple method.

The methods adopted by most of the wild animals for doctoring themselves are unknown to man, but there is no doubt that every animal has the ability to skillfully doctor itself.

Our Ancient Ancestors Dwelt in Ice Period Is Proven by a Discovery
One often hears of "the glacial period" or "the ice age" of the earth, but, strictly speaking, this expression is not correct, avers a writer. It is now established beyond all reasonable doubt that this planet has experienced not one but a great many glacial periods. Evidence has been found which proves that the latest or Pleistocene glacial epoch has several important subdivisions and that all of the present continents have experienced glacial epochs at different ages.

Great ice sheets were formed at different periods back to the Proterozoic age; that is the age of the oldest known sedimentary rocks, a great many million years ago. One of the most recent discoveries of the old glacial deposits was made by Professor W. W. Atwood of the United States geological survey, near Ridgway, in southwestern Colorado. These deposits were found beneath tertiary lavas of the San Juan mountains, and resting upon upper Cretaceous beds. They have, it is believed, been formed in early Eocene times.

The Culpit—I'll be sorry for you, then, if you ever get into trouble!

His Resources.
"I see where a scissors grinder in the West left a fortune of several millions."
"Then his methods were suspicious."
"How so?"
"He must have made his money by sharp practice."

The Exception.
"It's a long lane that has no turning."
"How about the straight and narrow path we hear so much about?"

Making It Pay.
"You say you have made money out of poetry, girlie?"
"Yes."
"Nonsense."
"No nonsense about it, Papa has paid me not to write any."

Good in Everything.
"There is a use for everything in this world."
"So?" Well, tell me the use of a jealous wife?"
"Certainly! If there were no jealous wives, how do you suppose homely stenographers could get jobs?"

THE MAKING OF A FAMOUS MEDICINE

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Is Prepared For Woman's Use.

A visit to the laboratory where this successful remedy is made impresses even the casual looker-on with the reliability, accuracy, skill and cleanliness which attends the making of this great medicine for woman's ills. Over 350,000 pounds of various herbs are used annually and all have to be gathered at the season of the year when their natural juices and medicinal substances are at their best. The most successful solvents are used to extract the medicinal properties from these herbs.

Every utensil and tank that comes in contact with the medicine is sterilized and as a final precaution in cleanliness the medicine is pasteurized and sealed in sterile bottles. It is the wonderful combination of roots and herbs, together with the skill and care used in its preparation which has made this famous medicine so successful in the treatment of female ills.

The letters from women who have been restored to health by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which we are continually publishing attest to its virtue.

FAITH
I would not see too clearly; I love the purple haze That softly veils the distance, And beauty gives my gaze— That leaves to Fancy's limning The things I'd like to see, My fondest hopes undimmed By what can never be.

I would not see too clearly; No prying thought would thrust; Whatever holds the future Let my poor heart yet trust. Love I a friend unduly, I would not know his lack; If I still love him truly— My love may win him back.

I would not see too clearly; Contented with what seems Let me keep life's illusion, The beauty of my dreams. Suspicion of the seeming What good can ever do? Oft if we trust our dreaming Faith makes the dream come true. —Samuel Minturn Peck in Boston Transcript.

A Pleasant Party

"Farview," the attractive home of Mrs. Harry W. Williams was the scene of a very delightful party last Friday afternoon when Mrs. William Barnes Sr. entertained in honor of her friend Mrs. George E. Whitney of Oakland.

The guests spent a very enjoyable social hour on the spacious porch amid a profusion of ferns and potted plants. Later a short program was rendered in the reception rooms and very dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. J. J. Pardee, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. D. H. Cramer, sang two charming old songs, and Mrs. H. A. Watrous gave two readings in the negro dialect. About twenty friends enjoyed this delightful afternoon.

The Campbell Union Entertain Los Gatos W. C. T. U.

The cosy home of Mrs. Robert Kennedy was the scene of a very delightful meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, held June 11th. By invitation the members of the Los Gatos Union were guests of the day, coming over in automobiles. On arrival they were cordially greeted with the white ribbon salute. Devotional, declaration of principles, and reading and approving of minutes occupied their usual place upon the program. Mrs. Newcomb announced that the first bed comfort made for the W. C. T. U. House of rest at Mt. Hermon, had been finished. Mrs. Kennedy, committee of the rug weaving, reported the rugs, also to send to the House of Rest, would be ready at an early date, to ship with the other articles. Mrs. Farley, Superintendent of Legislation and petition, reported having sent protests to California Congressmen regarding the ban being raised against the sale of wine or beer.

She also stated that the M. E. church and Epworth League had sent protests to Washington. The Secretary, Miss Marshman, read a letter from California Law Enforcement League, and Protective League, thanking Campbell Union for a recent donation of money to aid in its work, also stating that several cases against notorious houses had been won.

The committee on sale of the Coffee Club property reported having negotiated a sale to J. C. Ainsley Packing Co. The action of the committee was ratified by the union and a rising vote of thanks given the committee for its service.

Mrs. Whitman, Key woman, reported $40 still due on amount to be raised in the JURILEE DRIVE. It is hoped many friends of the cause may come forward and help these women. She urged a continuation of the drive according to State National plan and extols the breadth of vision shown by the leaders in choosing the lines of special work to which the money raised shall be devoted, namely Americanization of Foreigners, so they shall gain a true comprehension of American principals and ideals, Child welfare, where organized mother-love shall do all that is possible toward making ours a better world for the children. The importance of Law enforcement was emphasized as was the work in behalf of Women in Industry and World Prohibition. Los Gatos Union reported its quota subscribed. President Mrs. Baldwin, read a letter from Rev. Marshman and family thanking Campbell union, of which Mrs. Marshman was formerly a member, for the manifestation of sympathy and regard in their late bereavement, also expressing high appreciation of the noble work that is being done by the organization. Mrs. Marcen, State Supt. of Temperance and Labor gave a talk on the need of up to date literature. Mrs. Farr, newly elected Supt. of Sunday School work in Santa Clara County, spoke upon keeping abreast the times in temperance work and of the importance of pushing temperance teaching in Sunday Schools. Mrs. M. J. Wilson gave a graphic account the kidnapping trial in San Jose, where she was a called but rejected juror by the council of defence, who urged his client should be judged "only by his peers," (2), the verdict of "Guilty" was promptly made. Miss Charlotte Davis sang a sweet solo and Irene Preston played a piano solo most acceptably. The gracious hostess and daughter assisted by Miss Davis served very delicious refreshments during the social hour that followed. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. J. O. Duncan June 25th Election of officers, and Flower Mission day. Every one welcome.

Miss Kitty Johnson, the Senior class adviser, gave the class a breakfast at the high school last Wednesday morning. The Sophomore girls waited on the tables which were artistically decorated with the class colors, yellow and white, and with white daisies. All of the girls wore white dresses and dainty boudoir caps. Toasts were given in honor of the class and many compliments were given to Miss Johnson, who has so successfully advised the class throughout the year. The class showed its appreciation to its teacher by presenting her with a pie knife which was an addition to the silver set she had started some time ago. After giving "SIX" to each of the faculty, the class adviser, and the seniors, the party went to their classes. The Senior class recommends Miss Johnson as a class adviser. The play committee decided at a meeting last Tuesday night to leave the money which was taken in at this year's plays in the bank to draw interest. It will be decided next term as to what should be done with the money; that is if the student body should support the same nine orphans or adopt nine others. The following is an exact statement of the funds taken in $422.00 expenses $107 Cleared $315.31

The display of work done in the high school Domestic Science department has been very highly complimented and justly deserves much credit.

C. E. State Convention At Long Beach

The 32nd Annual Convention of the California Christian Endeavor Union will convene at Long Beach, California, on Saturday June 28th, for five days.

From every section of the state reports are coming in which indicate that the attendance will pass the five thousand mark. The Long Beach Convention Committee, who have in hands the entertaining of this vast throng are ready in all details to receive their incoming hosts.

The city officials, the civic organizations, the churches, and the citizens all join hands to make this C. E. gathering a memorable one.

It will be a "LOYALTY CONVENTION" of the state union and the theme, "THE CONQUERING CHRIST," will be worked out in seven main addresses by such religious leaders as Rev. W. H. Griffith Thomas of Toronto, Canada. Mr. Chas. H. Trumbull, Editor of the Sunday School Times, of Philadelphia, Pa.; Rev. John R. Voris, of the Inter-church World Movement; Rev. H. A. Van Winkle of Oakland, Rev. L. A. McAfee of Berkeley, and many other speakers.

Bible classes under most efficient leaders, and conferences on C. E. methods, under the direction of the various state officers, will occupy most of the morning sessions. A large chorus of 100 voices is being trained at this time to take part in the great song and praise service that will be a feature of each session. Soloists of note will contribute to all of the gatherings. The convention sessions are to be held in the pavilion or auditorium at the land end of the great municipal pier. The overflow meetings will be held in the specially built tabernacle close to the auditorium.

The tremendous and lasting influence of State Conventions in years past on the lives of thousands of our young people, will no doubt be again reflected this year more than usual, due to the conditions of the times, and to the fact that so many of "our boys" who have been "over there" in the past two years will again be with us. We are asking you each one to help make this convention the "THE BIGGEST AND BEST EVER." Be there if you possibly can and get as many others to go as possibly can go.
